

News On The Single-Family Rental Market

Realty Biz News – Brian Kline

Dec. 13, 2017

The November Morningstar Credit Ratings Report shows the securitized single-family home market remains strong, stable, and slightly improving. The impacts of Hurricane Irma and Hurricane Harvey are now well understood. Hurricane Irma appears to have little to no impact on the Florida single-family rental markets. However, Hurricane Harvey may have contributed to the increase in vacancies and decline in rents in the Houston market.

To read the full article, please click the link below:

News On The Single-Family Rental Market